

How to manage contact in groups

You can organize your contacts easily into groups, such as "Friends", "Work" or "School".

Adding a contact into a group

Simply, when you add a contact, you can assign the contact to an existing group or just provide a name for a new group in the according field. Moving a contact from one group to another

In the contacts list, you can drag a contact and drop it into any group. Removing a group

When you removed the last contact from a group, the group disappears in the contacts list.
